

Parenthood TV

www.screenpractice.com.au

Sarah has asked her daughter over to her house for brunch as they had a fight over Ambers engagement.

Sarah
Good morning!

Amber
Hi, whoa.

Sarah (showing her a frying pan with frittata in it)
Look.

Amber
Mmm, runny egg soup.

Sarah
No, it's--pfft. I gotta put it back in. It didn't set for some reason, but it's gonna be a frittata.
The barefoot contessa says so.

Amber
Is that bread in there?

Sarah
No! Here's mimosas.

Amber
Oh.

Sarah
Start the day off right.

Amber
This is unlike you.

Sarah
What do you mean?

Amber
What do I mean? I'm not sure if-- have you ever seen an oven before?

Sarah
Well, I hadn't turned that particular one on, but it works just like a charm.

Amber
Uh-huh.

Sarah
And, you know, I thought I'd try something-- try something new.

Sarah gets two glasses of champagne.

Sarah
Cheers.

Amber
Oh, good. What's up? I mean, really? We never really talked about the discussion that we had the other day. It was kind of an intense one. You sort of said some insulting things about my fiancé, comparing him to my father, who's a deadbeat.

Sarah
I wasn't insulting him. And your father is not a deadbeat.
He has some similar issues, and I think I was pretty clear...

Amber
Oh, my God. You're still on it, okay.

Sarah
No, you're still on it.

Amber
Yeah, of course I'm still on it, because it's the biggest decision of my life, and you--you don't trust me to make the right choice.

Sarah
I do trust you.

Amber
Obviously you don't, because you don't support me.
I'm not you, okay?

Sarah
You can make any choice you want, and I support you.
I'll absolutely support you.

Amber
But you don't agree.

Sarah
I don't have to agree with you.

Amber
Oh, my God. Yes, you do.

Sarah
I'm there for you, and I'm gonna be there for you every step of the way.

Amber
I don't want you there for me if you don't agree with my biggest life choice that I'm ever gonna make.

Sarah

It doesn't matter. I don't have to agree.

I just have to be there for you, which is what I'm trying to do.

Amber

It does matter! You don't think that I should get married.

Sarah

Well, I don't think you should get married, but it doesn't mean that I'm not going to support you in this.

Amber

You're really hurting my feelings.

Amber gets up and leaves.

Sarah

Why are you doing this?

Amber

I have to, mum.

Sarah

Why?

Amber

Because I don't wanna hang out with you like this.

She leaves.